

WE ALL LEARN DIFFERENTLY

and that's okay!

Attention

Headphones or other fidget tools can help people focus better!

Communication

Some people talk, use a device or prefer to use gestures or sign language.

Movement

Some people focus better while moving, standing, or using alternate seating, like bean bags.

Interests

We all have different hobbies, interests, and strengths.

Different doesn't mean less—it means unique. By embracing the many ways children learn, communicate, move, and engage with the world, we create communities where every child feels respected and experiences a true sense of belonging.
